

MICHAEL

Michael went to his new home on 4 August. Here is a photo of him saying "Goodbye" to his Auntie Evelyn. He has settled in extremely well. His new "mum" took a couple of days off last week and let him out.

He enjoys being in the garden (managed to scale a 6' high brick wall - not bad for an 18 year old) but soon comes back. He follows her around and often sleeps on the bed at night. He also likes sitting on her husband's knee.

Isn't it great to have a happy ending?
